

Easy Review Game for Any Lesson

Materials: One or more decks of cards, set of review questions, copy of memory verse

Directions: Before playing, prepare a list of review questions for the lesson you are teaching and come up with a suggestion for the praying part (Something that would apply to the lesson. For example, if it's a lesson on loving others, you might pray that God will help you to love others, etc.) Shuffle deck of cards and place them in a pile in the middle of the kids. They will take turns drawing a card, one by one. They should follow the instructions, depending on what card they draw.

Hearts:

If they draw a heart, they will say the memory verse.

Spades:

If they draw a spade, they will answer a review question.

Diamond:

If they draw a diamond, they will share a "gem" (a valuable piece of information) they learned.

Clubs:

If they draw a club, they will pray (out loud or silently).
